LETTER OF CORRECTION.

DEAR EDITOR,

Miss Mason asks me to write about the report of her very informal and desultory talk. An accurate report of such talk is out of the question, but she would like to remark upon one or two points.

Re Punishment. She wished to say that, though a light slap is both physiologically and psychologically correct, it is not often effectual. Witness the suffragettes who give us an example of the futility of arbitrary punishments. Of course any attempt at corporal punishment is attended with grave risks.

One other point: she fears she spoke as if it were not only possible but a thing that occurred that students should be sent away from their posts without due notice. This is very far from being the case. A student hardly ever leaves her post until her boy pupils go to school, or her girl pupils grow up, or are sent to school for companionship.

Mdlle. Mottu has also a protest to make re the discussion
